

Publishing and Promotion

What's stopping you? Take control of your writing career.

Our goal is to help you publish your manuscript and we provide authors with print-on-demand service (POD) and once published, help them to promote their books. We offer a menu of services and guide you through the process, providing you with a quality paperback or a hardcover book with a jacket, with an ISBN number and bar code.

Merrimack Media contracts with Worthy Shorts, Inc., to provide print and digital edition production services and title management and to manage our BackOffice and distribution services. These services are specially designed to support demand publishing and provide comprehensive distribution and cash flow management. Each author has access to his BackOffice, where he may control sales and receive reports. Additionally, we now offer authors complete ebook placement and automatic listings on distribution lists like Ingram, which reach Barnes and Nobles and libraries.
